

Soviet Lacks Antimissile Setup, Belief

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Informed U.S. officials believe the Russians still are a long way from achieving a combat ready antimissile missile system.

They are not disputing that the Russians may have developed an antimissile rocket, as Soviet Premier Khrushchev claimed Tuesday. But they stress that development of such a rocket is only part—and not the most difficult part—of the problem of fashioning a complete antimissile system, with its associated radar and other highly sensitive and complex gear.

One of the biggest problems—as the United States has found in its work with the Nike Zeus antimissile system—is to perfect radar that can discriminate between oncoming warheads and decoys sent out by an enemy to confuse and foil the defenses.

One official familiar with intelligence reports said the Russians have been employing large numbers of fairly powerful radar units, but that this radar is believed able to reach no higher than perhaps 100,000 feet and apparently is part of defenses against manned bombers.

He said there is no information here to indicate the Russians have developed an operational warhead, as distinguished from a research and test model.

It is known that the Russians last September exploded high above earth a nuclear test device that had some of the characteristics of an antimissile weapon.

President Kennedy, in a broadcast four months ago, announcing plans to resume U.S. nuclear testing in the atmosphere, said the Soviet test series last fall was aimed, in part, at "improving their defenses against missiles."

But, he added: "While apparently seeking information which is important in developing an antimissile defense system, these tests did not, in our judgment, reflect a developed system."

The information Kennedy said the Russians appeared to be seeking was believed to involve the effects of nuclear blasts on radar and communications.

U.S. scientists were looking for similar information in detonating a hydrogen device more than 200 miles above the Pacific last Sunday night.

Defense Department sources said evaluation of the results of that high altitude shot are not expected for perhaps 48 hours. How much information will be made public is not known.

Withholding Knocked Out of Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee today voted 10-5 to knock out of President Kennedy's tax revision bill the withholding system on dividends and interest.

The vote was a sharp setback for the President. He had counted on the withholding provision, as the biggest revenue source in the bill, to pay for benefits promised to business.

It was a victory for the committee's veteran chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who has vigorously opposed the withholding plan, and for many thousands of savers and investors who swamped senators with mail in opposition to it.

Depreciation Rates Will Be Improved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The business community will get a billion-dollar tax cut Thursday when the Treasury puts into effect liberalized guidelines for the depreciation of investments in plant and equipment.

The new guides, the product of efforts which began during the Eisenhower administration and were accelerated a year ago, will be announced tonight.

In essence, they will reduce the length of time during which businesses can claim tax deductions to cover their capital investments. The guides now in force were established 20 years ago and have long been considered obsolete.

Under the old system, businesses had to decide the useful life of each individual type of equipment or property in figuring annual depreciation deductions. The new system will lay down an average useful life for all the kinds of plant and equipment used in each industry. This should spare businessmen considerable bookkeeping and make it easier for the Internal Revenue Service to administer the tax laws.

Personnel of Crossett Co. Will Remain

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A Georgia-Pacific corporation spokesman said today his company does not plan any immediate changes in the operation or personnel of Crossett Co. of Crossett, Ark.

Georgia-Pacific acquired ownership of Crossett Monday when it bought 99.4 per cent of the company's stock.

"We have no plans for changing the operation," Robert O. Lee, public information officer, said. "It has been a very efficient operation and at this point it will be operated the same."

He said Georgia-Pacific would send some of its own personnel to the Crossett plant, but no other personnel changes were planned. Another company official said Crossett probably would be operated as a division of Georgia-Pacific.

The Crossett plant produces paper and paper products, chemicals, and some other lumber products. Georgia-Pacific is one of the nation's largest manufacturers of lumber products.

What Small Boys Forget on Camping

WESTPORT, N.Y. (AP)—Once again it's summer camp time, and to many a lad there's nothing like it—even if he does miss his mom, forget to take his trunk key and is kept awake by another guy snoring.

At Camp Dudley on Lake Champlain, an institution affiliated with the Young Men's Christian Association and America's oldest camp for boys, officials couldn't resist taking a peek at the first postcards sent home by the youngsters.

They quickly culled these bits of unintended humor, with spelling pen author: "The trip was horrible. I'm having fun already."

"Please send my trunk keys and my duffle bag key. And hurry, hurry, hurry."

"Dear Mom: I am feeling great. O.K. Except I miss a few people. One happens to be you."

Barricade in Berlin Is Reinforced

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

BERLIN (AP)—Hundreds of East Germans are toiling day and night to strengthen the Communist barricade of concrete and iron around West Berlin.

West Berlin police counted at least 550 at work in Tuesday's hot sun. They continued laboring after dark under the glare of floodlights.

As armed guards watched, they hauled up concrete slabs, strung barbed wire and cut back foliage to clear fields for fire of machine guns.

Unseen from the West, hundreds more were believed at work in plants producing concrete blocks and operating a giant supply line of material for the ever-growing barricades.

The work has gone on with little letup since the wall was begun last Aug. 13. In recent weeks it has been intensified.

Western Allied sources speculated the feverish effort has three possible aims:

1. To make it even more difficult for would-be refugees to get near the border or force their way through the defenses.

2. To bolster morale of the border guards. At least two have been killed and another wounded in gun battles with the West Berlin police. Others have been shot in fights with escapees. West German authorities say 332 guards deserted to the West in the past six months.

3. To head off a possible mass breakout on the Aug. 13 anniversary of the wall. On June 17, anniversary of the abortive 1953 East German revolt against communism, there was an attempted mass break, the Reds reported.

Stamps Votes Fire Dept. Bonds

STAMPS, Ark. (AP)—Voters have approved a $22,500 bond issue to buy firefighting equipment and apparatus by a 118 to 105 margin.

The bonds, approved Tuesday, will be repaid by a five mill ad valorem tax.

Canadians to Stage Rally for Doctors

By MAX HARRELSON

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Thousands of citizens from all parts of Saskatchewan converged on this provincial capital today for a demonstration against the government's compulsory medical care plan.

Leaders of the protest move expressed confidence there would be no violence, but some officials indicated concern by issuing appeals for calm and restraint.

Cavalcades were expected from all leading cities and towns. Estimates of the number of persons taking part ran as high as 20,000 to 30,000. They planned to mass before the provincial legislative building to voice opposition to the medicare plan.

The demonstration is sponsored by the Keep Our Doctors Committee, most vocal group backing the doctors strike which began July 1.

A majority of the province's 700 active physicians have joined in the strike against the controversial plan, claiming it opens the door for government control of the medical profession.

The plan, designed to provide medical care for everyone, is financed by single person and family assessments and by general taxation.

Premier Woodrow Lloyd said he would not appear before the demonstrators, but that he would receive a small delegation if they asked to be heard.

Lloyd said he believed he could make "a pretty astute guess" as to what their message would be. "I don't think the government is going to be influenced by this kind of demonstration," the premier said.

Streets approaching the legislative building were barricaded, but Lloyd said this was only to prevent the area from being congested by automobiles.

Nine British doctors arrived from London Tuesday night to fill vacancies created by the doctors' strike. Officials said at least two dozen more doctors from Britain were due here later this week.

Earlier appeals from the government were answered by 11 other doctors from Britain, two from the United States and four from other Canadian provinces.

At the airport, the new arrivals passed one of Regina's best known physicians, Dr. J. M. Laidlaw, who said he was giving up his seven-year-old practice here because he was "afraid of the government." He is taking a new position in Champaign, Ill.

JFK Prods Reluctant Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is prodding Democratic leaders to get the legislative wheels turning in a party-controlled Congress engulfed in a quagmire of protocol and political bickering.

The President is reported sounding a new note of urgency as strategy conferences disclose how deep some of his major proposals have sunk in the gumbo of inaction that has marked what Republicans are calling a do-nothing session.

There are indications that Kennedy himself may seek to mediate a Senate-House dispute over their handling which has prevented final action on any of the regular money bills.

Hinting at this, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said Tuesday that some drastic measures had better be taken to end a stalemate in which he said Democrats are digging their political graves.

"Every week that this goes on, you can count off a few more Democrats in the November election," he said. "The Republicans will make hay with this."

The Republicans already were busy cutting their hay.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said that "it is doubtful if any session of Congress in the history of the republic ever spent so much time accomplishing so little."

He and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana agreed in a statement that "most of the blame belongs on the Kennedy administration."

Regardless of who had to shoulder the responsibility, only a handful of major bills has become law in the more than six months of the session.

Telstar Puts TV Signal Overseas

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Telstar, America's chatterbox new satellite, zoomed through lonely space today on its pioneering mission to bring the world a new voice, ears and eyes.

In triumphant baptism Tuesday night, it sent television pictures spanning the Atlantic to France and England, as well as into U.S. homes. It relayed a telephone call from Maine to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson in Washington as loud and clear as the best of local calls.

Then for an encore, the versatile Telstar—only a yard wide—simultaneously transmitted news stories at a 1,000-word-a-minute clip, relayed photographs perfectly and supplied two way telephone calls with perfect aplomb from a 3,000-mile height in space.

Remarkably clear television pictures were received in France, and were to be relayed by tape into French homes today.

French television officials planned to beam a return program to the United States late tonight or early Thursday French time, which is six hours ahead of New York in Eastern Standard Time.

A Paris dispatch said this would include a song by Yves Montand, several views of Paris, and a message from Jacques Marette, French communications minister.

In Britain, faint and fleeting pictures were picked up as Telstar received, amplified and re-radiated the program beamed into space from a powerful horn antenna in the little town of Andover, Maine. The first telecast via space opened with a view of the American flag rippling in the breeze.

British viewers stayed up late for the great event of instantaneous television from abroad, with the brief reward coming after 1 a.m.

Telstar's first feats were a prodigious demonstration of things to come in a future worldwide satellite communications system to meet mounting demands for telephone, news, business, and television circuits spanning oceans and continents.

Praising this joint venture of private industry and government—American Telephone & Telegraph Co. footed the entire $4 million cost of building, launching and tracking Telstar—Newton Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, remarked:

"Now we have increased opportunity to increase the flow of information among all nations, to surmount the walls of ignorance and prejudice and to use mass communications hopefully to avoid mass destruction."

Telstar was designed and built by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Only for 12 to 15 minutes on some of its orbits each day will Telstar be in line of sight vision between Europe and Maine to permit television exchange.

But one plan calls for launching a series of 30 to 50 similar repeater satellites, so that one or more always would be in position for relay of television, telephone calls, photo or story and message transmission.

Ultimately, the instantaneous, continuous circuits might be provided by three satellites, orbiting 23,000 miles high so they appear to remain stationary over the same points on earth. Telstar's task is first to prove the capabilities, and help determine what problems still lie ahead.

1 Killed, 6 Injured in Collision

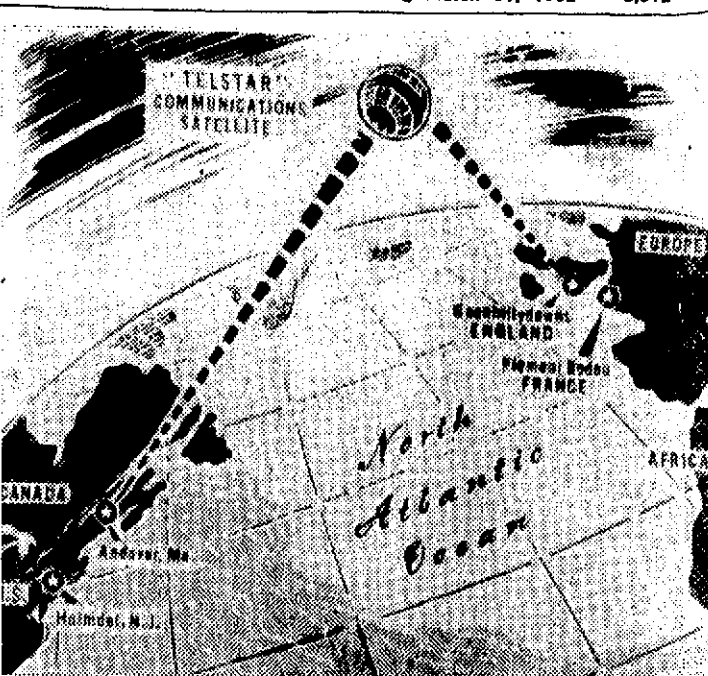

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—One boy was killed and six other persons were injured in a head-on collision on Highway 17 about two miles north of Batesville Tuesday night.

State police said Larry Kimmerling, 17, was killed.

Officials at Gray's Memorial Hospital in Batesville said Roger Dale Baker, 17, was critically injured. Baker and Kimmerling were in one car, police said.

The other injured were identified by police as W. C. Wilson, 19; Willard Wilson, 26; Norman Butler, 15; David Mobbs, 21; and Delbert Barnett, 16, passengers in the other car.

Only Baker was believed in serious condition. The accident occurred on a straight stretch of road, police said.

TELSTAR IN ORBIT — THE U. S. HAS SUCCESSFULLY rocketed the world's first international communications satellite, Telstar, into orbit in an effort to open a new era of global radio and "live" television. Efforts were to be made within 12 hours after the launch to transmit photos and news dispatches from Andover, Maine, and Honolulu, N. H., by way of the satellite. Ground stations in Goochville, England, and Pleumeur Bodou, France, will participate in international tests in about a week. — NEA Telephoto

India Says China Has Invaded Her

By R. SATAKOPAN

NEW DELHI (AP)—India accused Red China Tuesday night of a new aggressive thrust onto Indian soil in Ladakh and warned Peiping it will be held wholly responsible if a shooting war results.

Prime minister Nehru, from his vacation spot in Pahlgam, Kashmir, dictated the final contents of a protest note handed to the Communist Chinese embassy here.

The note charged nearly 400 Chinese soldiers penetrated the Galwan Valley in the China-Ladakh border area Tuesday and encircled the Indian military post there.

If the Chinese overrun the post, it would make the sixth Red military base, by India's count, set up in the disputed border area since 1960.

A note last Sunday from Peiping to the Indian government charged that the Indians had established a post in the Galwan area to violate a Chinese post in the lower reaches of the Shyok River.

An Indian reply said the Chinese were now here in the valley when they sent the note and added that they had no business to be there.

Virginia Church in Prize Contest

Virginia Church, 323 N. Ferguson in Hope, was among the students from a six state area who arrived in Tulsa Monday to compete for the 13th annual Gershon Fenster Memorial scholarships.

The competition was held at the University of Tulsa and is sponsored by the Oklahoma Tire & Supply Co. in memory of the former general manager of the firm.

In the 12 years since the scholarship program began, awards totaling $19,100 have been made to students for use at accredited colleges or universities of their choice. The scholarships are open to the sons and daughters of all OTASCO employees and associate store dealers throughout Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Examinations which were given Monday were both oral and written and were under the direction of Dr. Henry N. Carter, Dean of Students at Tulsa University. Awards will be made on the basis of test results, interviews, scholastic standing and extracurricular activities of the participants.

The students were guests of OTASCO at a luncheon in the company cafeteria at the General Offices, 6501 East Pine.

Churchill Sees Hospital Movies

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill watched movies from his hospital bed Tuesday night and called this morning for the London papers to check the racing news.

The 87-year-old wartime prime minister, whose recovery from a high bone fracture has been complicated by a blood clot in the leg, spent a comfortable night, Midsex Hospital officials said.

The other injured were identified by police as W. C. Wilson, 19; Willard Wilson, 26; Norman Butler, 15; David Mobbs, 21; and Delbert Barnett, 16, passengers in the other car.

Only Baker was believed in serious condition. The accident occurred on a straight stretch of road, police said.

Franco Picks Successor in Spain

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MADRID (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco has designated Spain's highest ranking soldier as his official successor and shuffled his Cabinet in a predicted prelude to political and economic reform.

Many experts here described the move as directed toward an early restoration of the monarchy in Spain.

By naming Capt. Gen. Augustin Munoz Grandes, as vice president the 69-year-old chief of state cleared up the long-pending question of who will succeed him if he dies.

Munoz Grandes has been chairman of the high military staff since 1957. Before that he was army minister for six years. He was secretary-general of the Falange party in 1939, and was an outstanding officer during the Spanish civil war.

A close associate of Franco in his 25 years of rule, Munoz Grandes commanded the Spanish Blue Division that fought alongside Nazi German troops on the Russian front in World War II.

Franco's decree appointing Munoz Grandes said he will continue to act as general commander of the high staff.

It added he will be charged with the coordination of the national defense departments and will carry out those functions he is expressly ordered by the president of the government, whom he will replace in case of vacancy, absence or illness.

Seven new ministers were named in the first Cabinet changes Franco had made since Feb. 25, 1957.

SS Payments Available to Those on Job

About a million workers over 65 do not realize that they are eligible to receive social security benefits, according to Otis Blackwood, district manager of the Texarkana social security office. These are mainly people who are still working and who think that they cannot get any benefits because they are making over $1,200 a year, Blackwood said.

Are you one of these people? If so, you may be losing money as each month goes by.

To illustrate, a man who has averaged $1,100 in annual income since 1950 would receive about $73.00 a month in social security payments. However, because he is continuing to work in his regular job after his 65th birthday, he thinks he cannot receive any payments. Actually, this man could get a total of $226 if he applied for it.

If you are over 65, it is important that you inquire about this now. No payments can be made unless you apply for them. Delay may cost you money because no claim for social security can go back more than one year.

Ask your social security office for leaflet 23c. This leaflet contains a chart which shows how your earnings affect the amount of your payments. By simply contacting the Texarkana social security district office, you may find an added source of income which you have earned through your work under social security.

Segregation Leaders Turn on Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Segregationist leaders, who stamped to support of Gov. Orval E. Faubus during the 1957 integration crisis, formally turned away from him yesterday in the midst of Faubus' campaign for a fifth term.

The three top leaders of the Capital Citizens Council issued statements critical of Faubus after a political handbill circulated in the mail charged Faubus had failed to fight hard enough for segregation.

Faubus' campaign headquarters had no immediate comment of the developments.

The handbill was signed by a Committee to Maintain Segregation in Our Schools. The committee has not been active before and it could not be traced. Neither could a name signed to the handbill.

The handbill made three distinct charges against Faubus: 1. He allowed desegregation of the Dollarway School near Pine Bluff without a fight. (The Dollarway School was desegregated without incident in 1960).

2. He ordered closing of the T. J. Roney High School, a private school opened for white students after Faubus closed Little Rock's public high schools to block integration in 1958. (The Roney School closed in mid-1959 and shortly afterward public schools reopened with token integration.)

3. The political sheet charged that Faubus "fought integration under a Republican administration, but has refused to fight it under a Democratic administration, thus proving that his past actions in opposing integration have been based not on principle, but on politics."

Faubus, it said, had "puffed away, looked away and smiled his approval" while a law enforcement officer of Jefferson County and a member of the Dollarway school board at Pine Bluff "surrendered" the school to integration.

Guthridge said he believed the statements in the sheet to be true. He added that "there are other tragedies among us where we

July 31 Deadline for U. S. Taxes

Area employers were reminded today that July 31 is an important federal tax date. Robert C. Grubbs Jr., Arkansas District Representative of Internal Revenue Service, Texarkana, said that date is the deadline for reporting and paying income and social security taxes withheld for the calendar quarter ended June 30.

Mr. Grubbs said that employers should use Form 941 to report their tax liability for that period and mail it, along with depository receipts and full payment of due taxes to "District Director, IRS, Little Rock, Ark."

Employers needing copies of Circular E, "Employers' Tax Guide," may get it from any IRS office. This publication explains employment taxes, together with tables and percentage methods for figuring such taxes.

He said the law provides that taxpayers making timely deposits in local authorized banks, or Federal Reserve Banks of the taxes due, have an additional ten days, or until August 10, 1962, to file their returns. Depository receipts must be submitted with the return, he added.

Army Graduates Cornelius Briggs

FORT CHAFFEE — Army Pvt. Cornelius S. Briggs Jr., whose parents live at 601 Short Shover St., Hope, recently completed the eight-week cooking course at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Briggs received instructions in preparation of food from standard Army recipes in mess halls and in the field.

He entered the Army last January and received basic training at the 601. The 18 year old soldier is a graduate of Yenger High.

2 Bombs to Follow the Big One

By ROBERT MYERS

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States probably will set off two more high altitude nuclear explosions at Johnston Island—but they won't pack the punch of Sunday night's hydrogen superblast.

"There's a good possibility there will be two more detonations at the Johnston site before the nuclear test program ends, an Atomic Energy Commission official said. "It all depends on what scientists learn from the first successful explosion."

The official hinted the original plan of three or four high altitude shots still was in effect. He suggested that one of these would be the final test of the spring and summer series.

He indicated the Christmas Island phase was almost at an end, despite a Joint Task Force 8 directive closing that test zone to ships and planes Monday night. It was understood one of the last shots in the Christmas region was being readied for firing.

Twenty-four nuclear devices have been detonated at Christmas since the test program started April 25. Most of these blasts were at low altitudes.

There was speculation after two earlier attempts at high-altitude detonations failed that the Johnston blasts might be cut to only must have leadership or be lost."

He charged that high and junior high schools are now integrated in the state capital and that efforts are being made to integrate elementary schools.

"The NAACP (National Association for the Advancement of Colored People) is now in court to force our white children to swim with Negroes," he said.

Guthridge also charged that there have been interracial parties held by students at the University Medical Center in Little Rock and that "poor white persons" at the University hospital were treated with abuse while Negro patients "are coddled and given preferred treatment."

He asked, "Under the present leadership, where are we headed?"

Taylor said he believed "Faubus surrendered the southern cause when the Kennedy-Johnson gang captured the National Democratic Convention." He said, "Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi and other greats in the South were looking to Faubus for leadership but he suddenly turned his back on them and did nothing. In so doing, he turned his back on greatness."

He added that Faubus "hypnotized one or two.

The original schedule included one shot of the megaton range—that was Sunday's firing—and two tests of less than one million tons of TNT. One was to be at an altitude of "hundreds of kilometers," possibly higher than the big blast Sunday.

The megaton success produced a spectacular show as the thermonuclear flash spread across the ocean and lit skies from Auckland, New Zealand, to Hawaii. Eerie greens, pale pinks and bright oranges and reds blended like a watercolor sunset for more than five minutes.

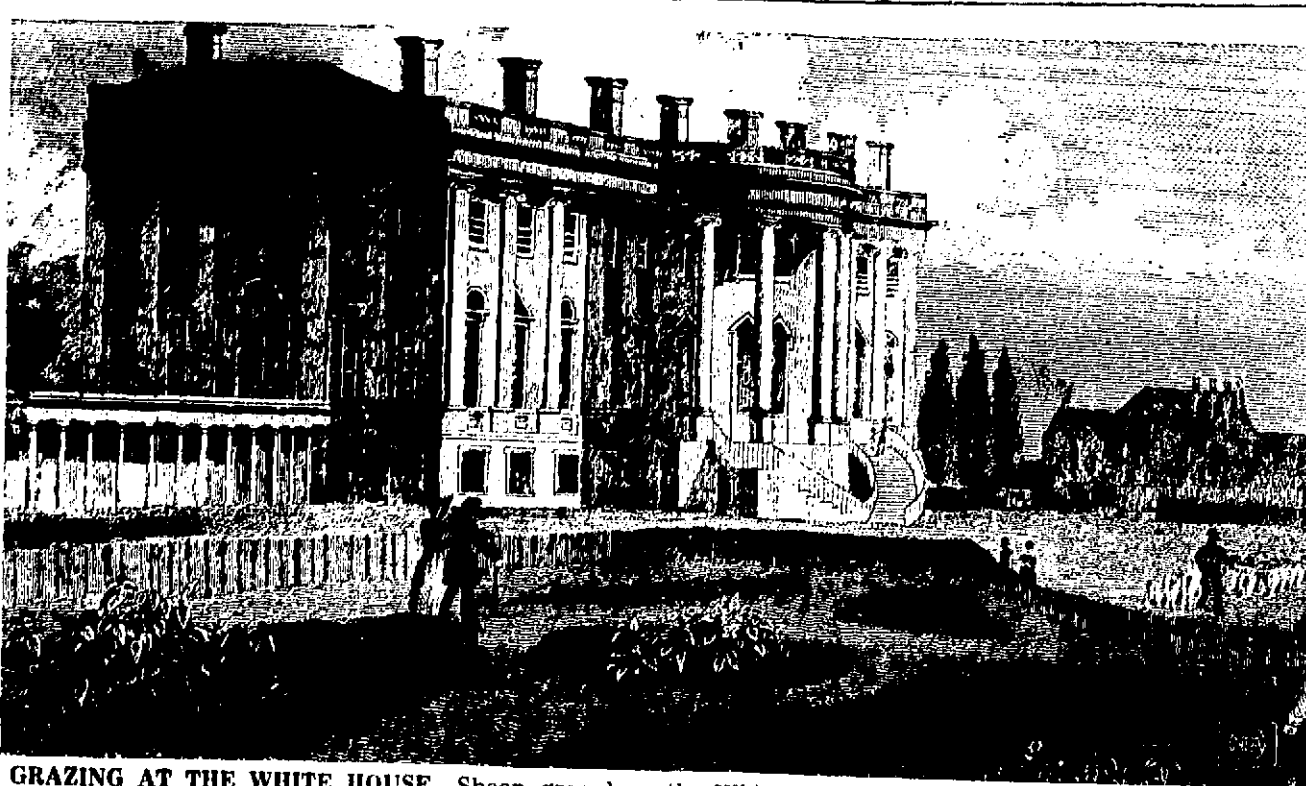

The device, carried aloft by a Thor missile, was exploded at a height of slightly more than 200 miles. It had a force of more than one million tons of TNT. Uncounted reports placed the power at close to 10 million tons.

Auckland, 3,843 miles southwest of Johnston, was treated to a brilliant fireworks display that turned the ocean blood red.

Heavy clouds over Honolulu obscured the fireball but residents and tourists watched in awe as the sky grew bright with color.

The Soviet Union and Communist China reacted quickly with criticism of the big shot. "Atom maniacs" and "American criminals" were among the charges heaped on the United States. In London, pacifists had to be restrained outside the American embassy.

Western scientists were divided whether the blast upset the delicate radiation balance in outer space. Information being collected from around the world—and presumably from U.S. satellites in orbit—will help to answer this question.

GRAZING AT THE WHITE HOUSE—Sheep grazed on the White House lawn during the 1820s, as shown in detail from an engraving of the period. Colonnaded pavilion at left was added during Thomas Jefferson's term as president to conceal various outbuildings. It now leads to the West Wing, where the Chief Executive and staff have offices. The English engraving is one of 208 illustrations, three-fourths of them in color, in the 132-page "The White House: An Historic Guide," the first official pamphlet concerning the First Family's residence.

Climber Killed in Grand Teton

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP)—One mountain climber was killed and another injured Tuesday when they fell on 12,798-foot Middle Teton Mountain in Grand Teton National Park.

U.S. Park Service officials withheld names of the men pending notification of relatives.

It was not known how the accident occurred.

Alfano New Ad Manager for Childs

Appointment of Leonard P. Alfano as advertising manager of the Childs Big Chain Division of the Kroger Co. was announced today by H. S. Hatch, division vice president.

Mr. Alfano, a graduate of the University of Kentucky, joined Kroger in Louisville three years ago as a management trainee. For the past year and a half he has been a member of the advertising staff of the Cincinnati, Ohio Kroger division.

Prior to joining Kroger, Mr. Alfano served in the U.S. Army and was previously associated with Proctor & Gamble Co. in Cincinnati.

State Dairy Loses Bid on Air Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of the Arkansas congressional delegation were unable today to convince Air Force procurement officials that a Paragould, Ark., dairy should be allowed to bid on the milk supply contract for the Blytheville, Ark., Air Force Base.

"It was not a fruitful conference," Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., said after a meeting in his office. "We just didn't get anywhere."

The Air Force has designated the Blytheville base milk contract for award to a small business, as part of a move to aid small businesses. It was held that the Paragould dairy—Foremost Dairies, Inc.—does not qualify as a small business since it is a part of a large dairy chain.

Gathings said that had Foremost been allowed to bid, it would have provided milk to the base for the coming year for $133,315. With Foremost shut out, he said, the low bid of $138,491 was submitted by the Sunny Hill Dairy of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

"Our contention is that this is a small business operation since hundreds of farmers provide milk to the dairy under a type of contract that makes them small businessmen."

At the conference were Dale Babbione, deputy director of procurement for the Air Force and his aides, representatives of the Small Business Administration and representatives of Sens. John L. McClellan and J. W. Fulbright and Reps. Wilbur Mills and Dale Alford, Arkansas democrats.

West Won't Pull Troops From Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States disclosed today that it has already rejected the latest public proposal by Soviet Premier Khrushchev for getting United States, British and French troops out of West Berlin.

The State Department also blasted as "hypocrisy" Khrushchev's criticism of American high-altitude nuclear explosions over the Pacific Ocean.

A statement sharply reminded the world that the Russians broke the test ban and fired several high-altitude shots last fall.

Khrushchev's Berlin proposal and his criticism of U.S. nuclear testing were covered in a speech he made at a Peace Congress meeting in Moscow today.

He said that troops of the Big Three Western powers in Berlin should be replaced by either Norwegian and Danish or Belgian and Dutch forces plus forces of Czechoslovakia and Poland. The first four nations mentioned are U.S. North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies while the Czechs and Poles belong to the Soviet bloc.

Khrushchev said the new garrison would be under the U.N. flag.

The State Department said: "It has already been indicated to the Soviets that the particular variant mentioned by Chairman Khrushchev today does not provide a satisfactory basis for (Berlin) negotiations."

It had been learned earlier that the proposal was discussed in secret talks between U.S. and Soviet diplomats seeking possible solutions to the Berlin situation.

The department statement recalled that in June last year during his meeting with President Kennedy at Vienna, Khrushchev proposed that the Berlin troop problem be solved by introducing Soviet forces alongside the Western powers in West Berlin.

It said that he had made a number of other propositions "to reduce or eliminate the position of the three Western powers in West Berlin."

The statement made clear that the United States has no interest in reducing or eliminating the position of the Western powers in West Berlin.

Although the idea of substituting powers of smaller Western nations for those of the Western Big Three was not new, it apparently was the first time Khrushchev had put it forth publicly.

Outsiders Are Invited by Catholics

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has sent out invitations to non-Catholic churches and church federations to send observers to its Ecumenical Council starting here Oct. 31.

Protestant observers never before have been invited to a worldwide gathering of the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

A Vatican spokesman declined today to say how many observers are being asked to attend or what churches had been invited.

In Geneva Tuesday night, the World Council of Churches, the Lutheran World Federation and the World Presbyterian Alliance announced receipt of invitations. They were asked to submit names of the observers by the end of June — "one or two" from the World Council, "two or three" from the Presbyterian Alliance.

Miss Judy Hammons Honored

Miss Judy Hammons, bride-elect of John Shafer, was feted with a miscellaneous wedding shower and dessert-bridge Saturday, July 7 at the Hope Country Club with Mrs. Carl Stuart Jr. and Mrs. Mitchell LaGrone, co-hostesses.

Wearing a black and white sheer summer frock, Miss Hammons pinned a corsage of Shasta daisies at her shoulder. The club house was decorated with green and white umbrellas and bouquets of Shasta daisies. The serving table, overlaid with a white cut-work cloth, was centered with an arrangement of daisies.

A delicious dessert and coffee were served to 30. After the honoree had opened her many lovely and useful gifts, they were displayed on tables.

Bridge was played at four tables with Mrs. R. H. Herod of Richardson, Texas winning the high score prize and Miss Troy Hammon winning the traveling prize. Both gave their presents to their sister, the honoree.

Other out of town guests were Mrs. J. D. Hammons of Huntsville Ala., Mrs. Foy Hammons Jr. of Charlotte, N.C. and Mrs. Ken Daniels of Dallas.

Miss Hammons Entertained

Bride-elect Miss Judy Hammons was the honoree at a seated coffee Saturday, July 7, when Mrs. Jack Gardner and Mrs. Floyd Leverett entertained in the Gardner home.

Miss Hammons chose to wear a green and white summer frock and pinned a yellow glabella corsage at her shoulder. A similar corsage was also presented to her mother, Mrs. Foy Hammons.

Caladium leaves, daisies, pink roses, and fern were seen in pretty arrangements at vantage points in the lovely new home. In the dining room the table was overlaid with a linen tea cloth and enhanced by silver candleabra holding cream colored tapers and a silver bowl of yellow roses and daisies. On the antique sideboard a miniature yellow arrangement was seen.

Mrs. R. H. Herod, Richardson, Texas, sister of the honoree, poured coffee. Miss Ginny Gardner assisted in serving the tasty dessert to about 30 guests. The hostesses presented a gift of silver to the honoree.

Besides Mrs. Herod, other out of town guests were Mrs. Foy Hammons Jr., Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. J. D. Hammons, Huntsville, Ala.; Mrs. Clyde Hord, Marked Tree; Mrs. Ken Daniels, Dallas; and Mrs. M. E. McCloughan, New York City.

Miss Foster was strikingly attired in a leaf-trimmed white linen dress. Her corsage was of fleur-de-amour.

DOROTHY DIX

She Leaped Before She Looked

By HLN WORDEN ERSKIN

Dear Helen: When a sophomore I met a senior in the same high school. He had everything, popularity, looks, kindness, sincerity, consideration and loving ways. That was three years ago and I'm still going with him; in fact, we are engaged.

He is now in the Service and stationed in Japan for the next year and a half. When I accepted his ring, I was willing to wait. Now I'm not sure. Suppose in these 18 intervening months I meet one whom I love more? This scares me for I wouldn't hurt him or his parents, whom I love like my own, for anything in this world. My father and mother think he's just about perfect, so they'd be hurt too.

In September I go to a co-educational college and live on campus. I realize I gave up the social life when I let my boy friend slip the engagement ring on my finger. My mistake was leaping before looking, instead of waiting for my parents to beg me to. I wanted to have my cake and eat it too.

All this is destroying my morale. I date other boys and feel guilty, as if I were two-timing; at once longing to test my love, yet fearing that the new boy may prove to be The One. Suppose this does happen, what would my fiancé and I do about our wedding bands and my engagement ring? How could I explain to his parents and mine?

He writes me every day. I find it hard to write him every three weeks. Guess I'm just too lazy. I hate everybody and everything. I've tried talking to my mother but she just doesn't understand so I turn to you. —Troubled Soul

Dear Trouble: The sooner you return those rings and explain your doubts to your fiancé and the parents, the better. Tell them that this doesn't necessarily mean a permanent break but the enforced separation has given you time to think and to mature. As trell have returned from a visit with Maj. Charles Stuart and family in Lawton, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Ellis and children in Ft. Smith.

Misses Phyllis and Myra Rankin of Eudora and Miss Mary Charlene Horton returned to Hope Monday after a month traveling in the western U.S.

Mrs. D. B. Thompson of Little Rock is in Hope for a few weeks at the home of Mrs. S. G. Norton 520 N. Hervey.

Mrs. Ambrose Robinson and daughter, Debbie and Miss Janice Bailey have returned home from a vacation in Bay City, Houston and San Antonio. They returned by Lake Charles leaving Miss Judy Robinson there for a two week visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Crank and Mark have returned to their home in Alice, Texas after a vacation visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Templeton of L.R. and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crank of Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crank and son David of Haynesville, La., were weekend guests in the Floyd Crank home.

Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Sallee of Pine Bluff were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kitchens.

Irma Mae Avery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Avery, Hope Rk. 3 went to Shreveport Saturday to enter Spencer Draughton Business College.

a result, you've come to the conclusion that your parents were right in the first place; a prolonged engagement is unfair to all concerned.

If your love for each other survives the year and a half apart, then it is indeed the real thing. Meanwhile he should be as free as you to put it to the test.

Dear Helen: Why do I get into hot water when I try to help others? To me, friendship means the desire to give assistance willingly, talk things out, respect confidences and help to the best of your ability. I did all this recently for my boy friend's twin brother. He told everybody how wrong I was. Now it looks as if I'd lost my boy friend too. Where did I fail? —Disillusioned

Dear Disillusioned: There is nothing wrong with your definition of friendship. You had the bad luck to try it out on a possessive twin who apparently resents your interest in his brother. But if your motives are right, there's no reason for discouragement. Keep right on living up to that definition of friendship. It's a good one.

ment. Keep right on living up to that definition of friendship. It's a good one.

Dear Bewildered: Compare yourself with this other woman. Take a good look in the mirror. Is your husband justified in calling you an old hag? As a morale-builder, take a refresher course in self-improvement, whether you need it or not. Exercise, have your hair restyled; develop outside interests. Be somebody, ignore the other woman.

Shame your husband by being nice. Nagging may have something to do with his delinquency or maybe he's just having a fling. But, since you've travelled the same road for 30 years, you might as well go the rest of the

A. L. Removal of Starters Criticized

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Second baseman Willie Mays' early removal from the starting lineup in the American League All-Star game, the National League and American League managers and players today, whether he would make the same factor in the second and third games, in Chicago's Wrigley Field, Monday, July 30.

But Mays' removal from the starting lineup in the second game, when he took Roy McMillan's place, was criticized by some players, but not by the manager and players in the lineup and replaced by a young, home run king with Chicago's Jim Landrum in center field.

A. L. manager, Landrum, a few days ago had long been listed as a candidate for the job, but he was not picked for the first game. Landrum struck out.

"I thought six innings was about right for Mays," Hank explained in the locker room dressing room later. "I wanted everybody to play. All in all, this is an All-Star game. They were picked from their clubs and I think they should have the opportunity to play."

Don Drysdale, the National League starter, struck out Mays in his first time at bat but the major league home run king early knocked the ball out of the park in each of his next two times at bat. Facing Jim Marmol in the fourth, he drove Willie Mays to the center field fence for a home run.

In the sixth, Mays made a spectacular catch. Roger's bid for a three-run homer, Willie crashed into the fence in deepest right center as he made the leaping catch, as a player reaching above the right field fence.

Tech Bolling, who had singled and gone to third on Billy Moran's single, scrambled home after the catch for the Americans' only run. Mays tossed out Rocky Colapinto and earned Jim Gentile to escape further damage. That was Mays' last run. He had hit as a pinch runner for the last two innings.

Mays, the defensive star of the game, shared hero honors with Stan Musial, the ageless wonder, and Marv Mays, the mercurial shortstop who bails from the nation's capital.

Mays didn't get a hit but he was tremendous. Besides his long runs to haul down blasts, Mays, he cut off a potential run with a fine play on Marv's egg single to left center in the sixth, and closed the game with a catch of Luis Aparicio's smash into the fence in deep right center.

Musial, who watched Drysdale and Marmol pitch scoreless ball through five innings, came off the bench in the sixth and slashed a pinch hit single to ignite a two-run rally. It was the 20th hit in the 26th All-Star game for the great St. Louis Cardinal, who before the game had visited President Kennedy's box behind the American League dugout and shared with the country's No. 1 pitcher for a few minutes.

"I reminded the President of our first meeting in the summer of 1960," Musial related later. "Remember, I told him, 'You thought I was too old to play ball and you were too young to run for president but now we're both doing pretty straight matters in the ninth.'"

Luck Varies for 2 Stars of National

Two National League sluggers—Minnie Minoso of pennant-hopeful St. Louis and Gene Freese of Cincinnati's defending champions—face completely opposite outlooks today as the major leagues prepare to lift the curtain on part two of the 1962 baseball season.

Minoso has made a successful recovery from a skull fracture and wrist injury, and is expected to return to the line-up shortly. But the reports on Freese, who became the major spring training casualty when he shattered his right ankle, have been anything but encouraging.

The 28-year-old third baseman, a vital cog in the Reds' drive to the 1961 pennant, is off crutches and can walk, but is unable to run well enough for Manager Fred Hutchinson to be optimistic about his chances of returning in the immediate future.

Third man in the Reds' power triumvirate led by Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson, Freese hit .277 last year with 26 homers and 78 runs batted in. When he fractured his ankle, hopes were high that his big bat would be back in the batting order sometime in June.

Now it's July and the only official word on Freese's return comes from the team physician, who says tersely: "Freese will be back before the end of the season."

Minoso is only one step away from getting the go-ahead. A physical exam early next week will determine his fitness to return to active duty for the first time since May 11, when he slammed into a concrete wall while chasing a fly ball and suffered the skull fracture and wrist injury.

Minoso was hitting only .194 before he was hurt, but had been hampered by a rib injury. His reactivation is expected to provide the Cards, now in fifth place and nine games behind, with the power needed to cope with the leaders.

Minoso, who says he has shaken off all effects of the injury, will get his first chance to watch his teammates in action as the second half of the season rolls into high gear Thursday night. There is one game scheduled tonight—Houston at Philadelphia in a makeup of a rained out game.

As action picks up, National League-leading Los Angeles will be at New York Thursday night with second-place San Francisco, trailing by a half-game, at Philadelphia. Third-place Pittsburgh will be host to Houston, St. Louis is at Milwaukee, and the fourth place Reds at Chicago for a day game.

In the American League, first-place New York meets the third-place Angels at Los Angeles while runner-up Cleveland is at Baltimore trying to cut down the Yankees' one-game edge. Washington is at Minnesota, Detroit at Chicago and Boston at Kansas City for a two-nighter.

Cleveland, Cage Star Are at Odds

NEW YORK (AP)—The big rivalry in the National Basketball Association today was: Will All-American Jerry Lucas stick with the Cleveland Pipers, the newest entrant in the league?

"I spoke with him Monday," said George Steinbrenner, principal stockholder of the Pipers, "and he agreed to play in the NBA. We are working out details now so he can continue his education."

"I think Jerry realizes now there is not much difference between the 80 games in the NBA and the 72 he would have played in the American Basketball League."

But Lucas, who is attending summer sessions at Ohio State, said: "We haven't come to any agreement. I really don't know what I'm going to do. I just don't have a contract to play in the NBA."

He said that if he does decide to play in the NBA, he will want a raise over his two-year, $60,000 contract.

It appears obvious that the Pipers, champions of the ABL, would not have been taken in Tuesday as the tenth team in the NBA if they could not promise that Lucas would play for them. Lucas previously had objected strenuously to the long NBA season and gave it as one of his main reasons for casting his lot with the ABL.

The Piper move sounded the death knell for the ABL, which was in business just one season. There was talk of getting started again in 1963-64, but that is a long way ahead.

Must Shoot Par to Stay on Tourney

By TOM REEDY

TROON, Scotland (AP)—Three titans of American golf faced the nerve shattering assignment today of breaking par or catching the next plane home.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Phil Rodgers went into the second 18-hole qualifying round of the British Open championship with an anchor around their necks.

Masters' champion Palmer, defending his 1961 British Open crown, and U.S. Open king Nicklaus stumbled around Old Troon Monday in 76 blows. Today they qualified with 142 against Palmer's 143, old Sam Snead, U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus and Gene Littler, the San Diego, Calif. star who won the U.S. Open a year ago.

Palmer and his American buddies were also looking over their shoulders at the Australians. They were Kel Nagle, who won the 1960 title at St. Andrews, beating Palmer by one shot, Bruce Devlin, an amateur turned professional who was the key to Australia's defeat of the United States in the Eisenhower World Cup play at St. Andrews in 1959, and the reliable Peter Thomson, four times British Open king.

Nagle served notice in the qualifying rounds he is to be reckoned with by breaking the Lochgreen course record with a 65 and tacking on a 76 at Troon for 141.

Thomson just coasted around in 70-73-143 which was as good as Palmer, Devlin posted 72-68-140. Perhaps one of the most dangerous of all was Gary Player of South Africa. He settled for 71-76-147 in the qualifying.

After today's 18 holes and Thursday's repeat, the field of 119 qualifiers will be reduced to the Thursday's repeat, the field of 119

U. S. Versus Australia in British Open

By TOM REEDY

TROON, Scotland (AP)—The 1962 British Open championship, one of the real prizes of golf, opened today in an atmosphere suggesting it was a match between the United States and Australia.

With the ever dangerous qualifying rounds behind them, the big betters of modern golf took on Old Troon's 7,045-yard, par 72 layout in search of glory which by American standards is about all they get out of it.

First prize is only 1,400 pounds—$9,200—but as defending champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., said: "You can break even on expenses but the point is this is a matter of prestige. That is why I come here, and my wife and I also enjoy the trip."

Palmer led a contingent of eight Americans into the championship as a 2-1 favorite to retain the crown he won last year at Birkdale in England. But he knew full well he had to contend with Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., who qualified with 142 against Palmer's 143, old Sam Snead, U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus and Gene Littler, the San Diego, Calif. star who won the U.S. Open a year ago.

Palmer and his American buddies were also looking over their shoulders at the Australians. Musial-JFK Conversation Is Recalled

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Baseball's elder statesman, Stan Musial, triggered the winning rally for the National League in the 32nd All-Star game with a pinch-hit single.

And one of the loudest rosters for old man Musial, age 41, was young Jack Kennedy, age 45, considered possibly a little young to be President of the United States. When he was told of the President's cheers after the game, Musial let reporters in on what he and the President talked about in their meeting just before Tuesday's game.

"When I shook hands with him before the game today," Musial said, "he was telling everybody what a good job of campaigning I did for him."

"I reminded him of the time we first met. It was in Milwaukee in the summer of 1960. As we shook hands, he said, 'They tell me you're too old to play ball and I'm too young to run for president. I have a hunch we'll both fool 'em.'"

"The President remembered all right," Musial said, "and he laughed when I added, 'And I think we're both doing a good job.'"

The capacity crowd of 45,480 at D. C. Stadium gave Musial an ovation before and after the hit. The National League scored two runs in the sixth inning after Musial's pinch hit single for pitcher Juan Marichal of San Francisco and went on to win 3 to 1.

Over in the American League dressing room, Manager Ralph Houk was musing over what might have been.

Roger Maris of Houk's New York Yankees swatted a mighty drive in the sixth with two men on base that could have put his team ahead.

"That ball of Maris' was really hit," Houk said. "I thought it was going to make it."

But center fielder Willie Mays of San Francisco grabbed the ball on a great catch more than 400 feet from home, then bounced off the wire fence in deepest center field.

One run scored after the catch, but that was all for the American League in the scoring department. Houk thought pitching was the key to the game, but added that it always is "when you get this kind of pitching. These guys are really pitchers, on both sides."

Kim Named New Premier of Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's ruling military junta announced a shakeup of its Cabinet today, appointing Kim Hyun-chul as premier succeeding Gen. Chung Hee Park. Park remains head of the junta.

Kim was named chairman of the Economic Planning Board and vice premier June 18 when Park took over the premiership.

Park also retained his post as acting president.

Kim was finance minister under former President Syngman Rhee.

Park said in a statement the junta had been looking for a suitable man for the premiership and finally decided on Kim, an American-educated economist.

There was talk Kim, 61, was offered the job after Song Yo-chan resigned, but refused to take it until more power was given the job.

Park accepted the resignation of two junta members, and also appointed two new ministers.

The two who resigned are Army Brig. Gen. Sohn Chang-kyu, chairman of the junta committee on education and social affairs and Army Brig. Gen. Yoo Won-shik, a member of the junta's finance and economic affairs committee.

The junta said they resigned for "personal reasons."

Joey Adams Not Funny to Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comedian Joey Adams may have wowed them in Afghanistan but his State Department-sponsored goodwill tour last fall was a flop with a House Appropriations subcommittee.

In fact, the whole cultural exchange program under which performers are sent abroad to win friends for the United States is viewed dimly by the subcommittee, which holds the purse strings for the operation.

Testimony made public today on the State Department's request for $1.1 million to run the program through fiscal 1963—up $1.2 million from last year—contains pages of hostile questioning of department witnesses.

Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., tart-tongued chairman of the subcommittee, described the papers supporting the budget request as "a scenario." He concentrated most of his attack on the four-month tour of Afghanistan and Southeast Asia by Adams' troupe of 23 performers.

He produced reports from State Department posts in the areas visited by the troupe disclosing bitter feuding among the performers that led to a near fist fight in Saigon between Adams and drummer Buddy Rich.

Max Eisenberg, a deputy assistant secretary in charge of the program, acknowledged under questioning that the department received reports "the conduct of many of the troupe, including Adams, had been damaging."

Eisenberg insisted, however, the personal differences among the troupe were kept offstage and did not interfere with the audience reaction to the show, which he called "excellent."

Rooney retorted there was no way of telling what such shows accomplished, and that anyway, at a total cost of $256,000, including $1,200 a week for Adams, the price was too high.

Wills New Threat on Base-Nabbin'

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marty Wills convinced doubting American League All-Star fans that his blinding speed is a long shot threat indeed to Ty Cobb's base-stealing record.

The fleet Los Angeles Dodgers shortstop stole a base and scored the first run in Tuesday's 3-1 victory by the National League in the 32nd All-Star game and impressed one and all with his dashing base running.

When Rocky Colavito of Detroit fielded a single by Jim Davenport of San Francisco in left and threw behind Wills, apparently trapping him between second and third, Wills shifted into high gear and beat the relay to third base in the eighth. A few seconds later he sped home on a foul fly to short right field.

Casey Stengel, whose New York Mets have been made aware of Wills' speed all season long, said he wasn't surprised at all.

"He's got the move of a snake when he slides," said 72-year-old Casey, who spent the day on his feet, coaching at first base.

When a reporter asked Wills why he would risk injury with headlong play in a game that didn't count in the pennant race, he said:

"I don't think they would have asked me to play if they didn't think I'd go all out."

Wills made the big time only after Detroit, aching for a shortstop, traded him for a pitcher.

Wife From Japan to Join Airman

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Off again, on again "Operation Margie" is finally a success with a Little Rock Air Force Base airman's wife due from Japan July 25.

And it all came off because of good will and some 290,000 trading stamps (193 books).

The whole affair was launched last April 19 when A2C David L. Brooks and Mrs. Anne Thompson of Jacksonville, began their campaign to raise enough stamps to bring Brooks' Japanese wife, Misako, to the United States and a reunion with her husband.

The last 25 books rolled in a week ago today, but Misako—Americanized to Margie by her husband—couldn't leave on such short notice.

Mrs. Thompson said Monday, however, that Margie will arrive in the United States around July 25.

Mrs. Thompson said stamps arrived from various spots, the most distant in Japan, where Margie doesn't even comprehend such things.

A soldier stationed in Japan sent several old books of trading stamps saying they were collected by his wife but were unusable in Japan.

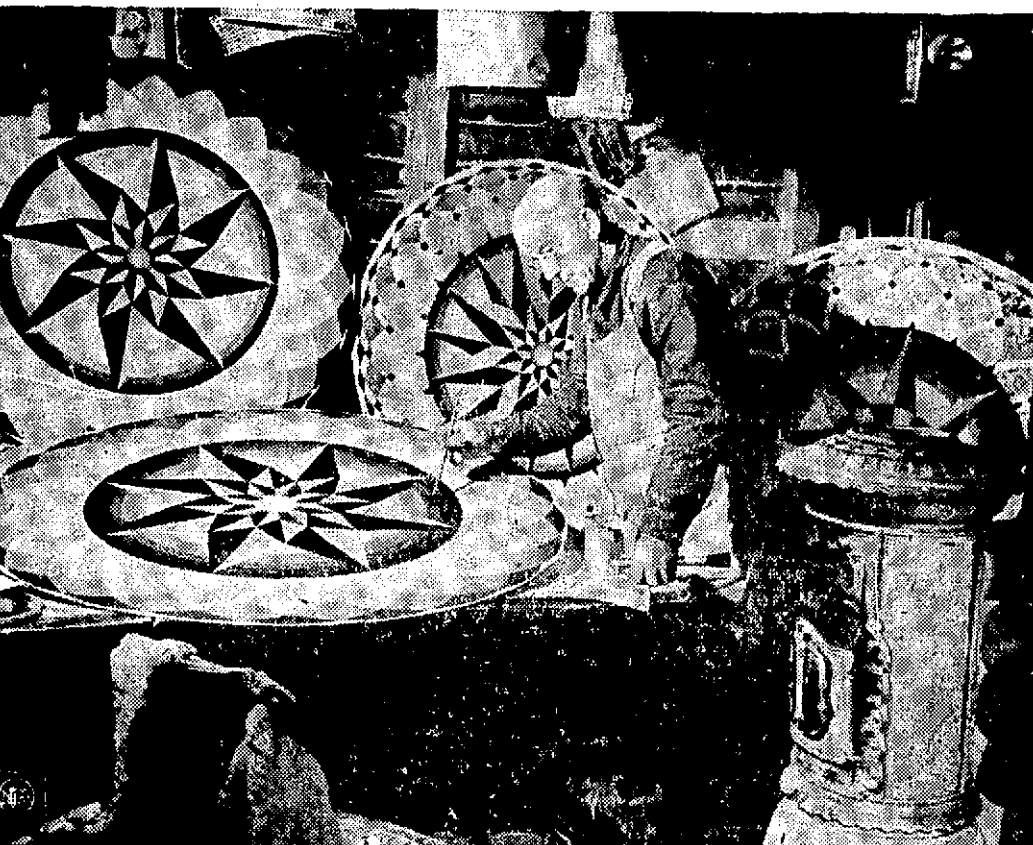

Brooks met Margie in Japan while stationed near her home at Fukuoka, in 1960. They were married a year later and Brooks was transferred to the Little Rock base.

Margie remained behind because the Air Force does not furnish transportation for dependents of airmen.

The overseas trip via trading stamps is the second such success story in Arkansas this year.

stop, passed him up and returned him to the Dodger chain in 1959. He came up to stay and starred with the pennant-bound Dodgers later in '59 and led the league with 50 stolen bases in 1960 and 35 in 1961.

Wills has stolen 4 bases for the league - leading Dodgers in 89 games. With 73 games to go, he is league mark of 96 set in 1915. He has a good chance to topping the National League mark of 80 set at least a long shot threat to break Cobb's modern major by Cincinnati's Bob Bescher in 1911.

You're as Young in Heart as Your Memories, Says Philosopher Hal Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A person is as young in heart as his memories.

And, no matter what your chronological age is, you still have a youthful spirit if you can look back and remember when—

You heard someone say for the first time, "Don't take any wooden nickels."

High school girls were eager to act as baby-sitters for 10 cents an hour.

Middle age began at 40 instead of 45 or 50.

It was a sign of prosperity for a man to wear a big ruby in a gold ring.

The only people who went skiing were foreigners who lived in Switzerland—a land where, if you got lost in the snow, a big friendly St. Bernard would plod to your rescue carrying a small keg of brandy around his neck.

In the country you read by a kerosene lamp, in the city by a 25-watt electric light bulb.

After a case of diphtheria, everybody had to leave the house for a day while it was fumigated.

All boys wore their hair pompadour style, and trained it to lie flat by wearing a skullcap.

Except in the big cities, practically every man kept a shotgun in his home—but nobody ever thought it necessary to lock the doors at night.

Old ladies cooled themselves in warm weather with a wooden-handled cardboard fan, usually given away free by the local grocer or undertaker.

All births, marriages and deaths were chronicled in a big, well-worn, well-read family Bible with a time-faded leather cover.

Many a father sternly announced he'd be caught dead before he'd let any daughter of his cut off her long tresses and go around with bobbed hair.

A really polite man always tipped his hat when he met ladies in the street—and never chewed tobacco while visiting in other people's homes.

A wife feared her husband was ailing and "off his feed" if he ate fewer than six biscuits and three eggs for breakfast.

When a farm boy left to seek his fortune in the city, his mother sewed up most of his money in his underclothing.

When a telegram arrived, everybody broke out crying. They were sure, even before opening it, that no one would go to all the trouble and expense except to send bad news.

Negro Is Sought on Rape Charge

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies were closing in on a St. Francis River floodway near Payneaway this morning in search of a Negro reported to have raped a white woman at Weona, early today.

Pointsett county Sheriff C. T. Sullivan said neighbors called early this morning and said a woman in her 20s had been raped at her home about three miles from Weona. Later, residents of the area saw a Negro go into the floodway area, deputies said.

Deputies said they had not talked to the woman, whom they believed had been taken to a hos-

Race Clause Would Hurt Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A survey of home builders across the country indicates widespread belief among them that a presidential order barring discrimination in federally assisted housing would cause a serious drop in new construction.

The study was made for the National Association of Home Builders by C-E-I-R, a private firm of economic consultants, and its results sent to President Kennedy.

Of the 6,000 builders who responded, 42 per cent said the order would cause curtailment of their building plans. Only 13 per cent said it would lead to increased construction.

The association interpreted the findings as meaning about a one-third drop in new home construction and a loss of $3 billion to $5 billion, directly or indirectly, in the national output. This was based on expected production this year of 1.4 million houses and apartments.

The builders organization urged on Kennedy a "major, nationwide educational campaign to lessen misunderstanding and tension" and to foster "community acceptance of changing living patterns."

It said it does not necessarily agree completely with all the points for treatment.

The Payneaway area is near the junction of state highways 14 and 3, between Harrisburg and Marked Tree.

Reds Make Propaganda of N-Blast

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist-led World Peace Congress opened quietly in the Kremlin today but exploded into life as the United States exploded a nuclear device high over the Pacific.

"It is a gift to the Congress," the jubilantly exulted Pravda's political commentator, Georgi Zhukov, as he got the news. Communist propaganda organs and delegates set out to exploit the test to the fullest.

One after another, they collared reporters or stepped to waiting microphones of radio Moscow to denounce "American atom-maniacs," "American criminals," and "American warmongers."

The Pacific test provided the means the organizers had hoped for to direct the delegates' generalizations about disarmament and peace into straight anti-American channels.

Purpose of the six-day congress is to line up as much world public opinion as possible behind Soviet foreign policy, especially in the disarmament field.

Before the congress ends, Premier Khrushchev will address the more than 2,000 delegates assembled from 101 countries, 150 from the United States. Pravda said Khrushchev will "dispel much of the fog generated by opponents of disarmament."

Judith Cook, introduced to the Congress as leader of the women's demonstrations for peace in the United States, told the delegates: "I add my voice to those mothers who protest against all kinds of tests."

British Split Over Pacific Bomb Test

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP)—The U.S. high-altitude nuclear blast over the Pacific was denounced by the Soviet Union today and criticized and defended in Britain. Watchers in the distant Pacific got a spectacular display of fireworks.

"The crime has been committed," declared Moscow radio. "The U.S.A. exploded its nuclear device in space despite the decisive protests of all mankind—precisely on the day when the World Congress for General Disarmament and Peace began its work in Moscow."

In Auckland, New Zealand, the blast produced 10 minutes of pyrotechnics, and newspapers were flooded with calls from New Zealanders, some curious, others panicky. An intense glow appeared above the northern horizon, spreading across a clear sky to the southern horizon. Then a luminous red band widened, shined through with quivering white shafts of light.

Watchers in the Fiji Islands saw a glow of green, blue and yellow in the northeast sky. This turned to orange and crimson as the glow spread to the southwest. Shafts of bright white light in the center of the glow also were reported there.

Fiji is about 2,000 miles southwest of Johnston Island, site of the test, and Auckland about 3,200 miles away. Johnston Island lies a little more than 700 miles southwest of Honolulu.

Communications blackouts were reported in various parts of the Pacific, as scientists had predicted.

In London, where some British findings.

While campaigning for president, Kennedy criticized his predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower, for not issuing such an order. Asked at his news conference last week when he planned to do so, Kennedy said, "I will announce it when we think it will be a useful and appropriate time."

Casper Is Favorite in Detroit Play

DETROIT (AP)—Bill Casper Jr., in the absence of many of golf's touring elite, rates as the favorite of the 11th Motor City Open that starts Thursday.

Casper's long drives are designed to tear par apart on the Knollwood Country Club course in suburban Birmingham. Par is 36-35-71 on the 6,879-yard layout.

But the big reason Casper is the pre-tournament choice is he'll have little top drawer opposition. He's the only one of the year's top five money winners who's entered in the 72-hole, $35,000 event. The other stars—Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player—are in Scotland for scientists have assailed the high-altitude test. Britons were assured the explosion would have no effect on the earth's weather.

"The explosion was too high to disturb anything of meteorological significance," said Dr. R. C. Sutcliffe on the British Meteorology Office's Department of Research, and ties after 36 holes Friday.

SHORTY

A 2-Minute Story
© 1962 by NEA, Inc.

STILL, YOU'RE A THIEF!

By ESTHER LACY

Judson Smith had worked at the same routine job 26 years. Had a modest home, a nice family, and a hobby—classical music. Judson was as considerate as the next man, and certainly no more of a crook than you or I.

One Friday he left the office with his $73 take-home pay in his wallet, and walked toward the bus terminal—as he did every working day. But in front of the Hotel Strand Judson stepped on something, looked down to see a fancy pigskin wallet under his shoe. Picking it up, he saw a flash of green—money, along with credit cards.

Judson stepped into a corner telephone booth to examine the wallet. At that moment he meant to return the wallet to its rightful owner, via the identification cards which gave the owner's address in Texas. Besides, a hotel phone call memo read that the man was now staying in Room 806 of the Hotel Strand. Judson could return the wallet in a matter of minutes.

He was about to take the wallet to the hotel . . . when his curiosity made him count the money—$186.

This was more than two weeks' salary and now Judson hesitated. Not that he had any doubts that the honest thing to do was to return the wallet and the money, but a new thought had entered his mind. For weeks Judson had been day-dreaming of buying a small but expensive radio—a set with which one could receive music from the smaller FM stations devoted to serious concerts. The radio cost $180, and was made with the skill of a delicate watch.

"I'm being silly," Judson told himself. "This isn't my money, the right thing is to return it. Merely leave it at the hotel desk and—no, I'll take it up to the room, if the man's in. I suppose I might be given a reward, five or ten dollars. Still, what if the owner accuses me of picking his pocket, has me arrested? Oh, that's ridiculous! A pickpocket would never return the wallet."

"Why, the more I think about it, he's lucky I stumbled on his wallet. A crook would use these credit cards to run up a bill in the thousands. Besides, if the man isn't in and I leave the wallet at the desk, the clerk may take the money. I've never done anything dishonest before—still, is this really dishonest? The money is my reward. It will mean years of enjoyment for me, and the man will consider himself fortunate to get his cards and wallet back safely!"

Judson wrestled with his conscience until he lost. Then he put the money in his own wallet. Walking quickly to the post office, he sent the pigskin wallet—minus the money—back to the owner, via registered mail, using a false return address and name on the envelope. Then Judson almost ran to the radio store.

The store clerk was a middle-aged man who said, while showing Judson how the set worked, "You must be a true connoisseur of music, sir, to appreciate the qualities of this perfect machine."

"I know all about it. I'm in a hurry, I'll take it," Judson said, opening his overcoat, reaching for his wallet. Suddenly his face went pale, he frantically slapped all his pockets.

"I've . . . I've lost my wallet—with my week's salary in it!"

"Oh," the clerk said suspiciously. "If you pay by check . . ."

"Check? I'm lucky to have enough change to reach home."

"Did you have any identification in the wallet?"

Judson nodded numbly. The clerk said, "Well then, whoever finds it will certainly return it, or contact you."

"I hope so," Judson mumbled, leaving the store.

As the clerk bent down to place the tiny radio back in the counter, he noticed this thick, old black wallet lying under a display model of a large TV set. Picking it up, the clerk thought, "He wasn't a phony, he really lost his wallet. Must have fallen out as he turned to open his coat. Here's his name and home phone, I'll give him a half hour to reach his house, then call him and . . . Hmmm, $259! Rich man, making this salary for a single week's work. Feel uneasy about keeping this . . . Still, if he can afford such an expensive radio . . ."

The End

Picking it up, Judson saw a flash of green money.

Louisiana Session on Last Lap

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Louisiana Legislature hits the home stretch of its 60 day session late today with both houses scheduled to meet at 4 p.m.

Adjournment of the regular 1962 session, which has concentrated on fiscal matters, is scheduled early Thursday. The session started May 14.

A controversial code of ethics bill, passed by the Senate 28-8 over Gov. Jimmie H. Davis administration's opposition, comes before the House on special consideration. It is sponsored by Sen. B. H. Rogers of Grand Cane.

Among the amendments which opponents will try to throw into the bill, already revised in the House committee, is one of substitute the Ten Commandments for the bill's provisions which are designed to prevent use of public positions for private gain.

The amendment is sponsored by Rep. Lantz Wornack of Franklin Parish and has been called "sacreligious" by Rogers. "He is trying to ridicule the bill," Rogers said.

Opposition to the code, which foes say is vague and loosely written, is likely to be led by the administration.

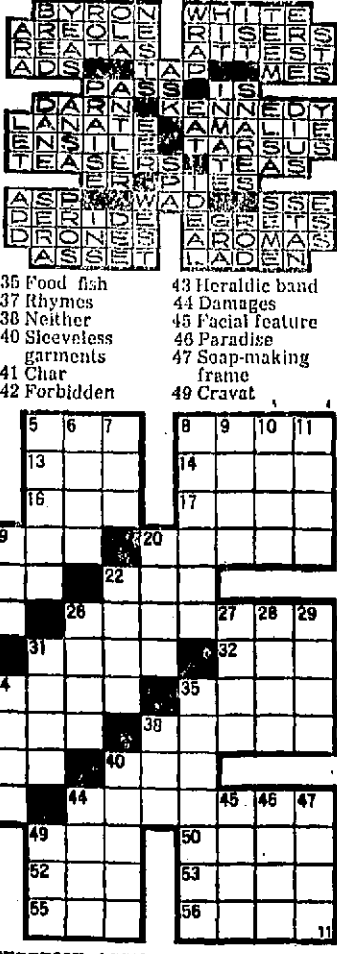

Endorsement of the code has come from the Louisiana Civil Service League, the Association of Louisiana Chambers of Commerce, the state AFL-CIO and the Public Affairs Research Council.

As it now stands, the bill would set up a nine-member commission, similar to the Louisiana Civil Service Commission, to consider ethics violations. The governor and state officials are included, but local officials and employees are excluded.
